Space and Assets at Sydney's Olympic Village

5th September 2000

...We have to basically outfit, completely move in and set up two suburbs' worth of goods with $25 million worth of furnishings and $60 million dollars worth of technology. I will get one or two hours notice of a final allotment of space... When the athletes show up, I need to be standing at the door with the right keys and the right inventory."

Marc Klein, Program Manager for the SOCOG, Olympic Village Support Operations

EEM World (First Quarter 2000) Published by Bentley Systems

"At a nuts and bolts level, we can query the ActiveAsset Planner database and ask 'Where is vacant space that is greater than 20 square meters?' or 'Where in our property portfolio do we have leases that fall due within the next six months?"

Marc Forestieri, Managing Director Quantum Leap Consultancy

> "As the system was specifically tailored and implemented by Quantum Leap Consultancy for SOCOG, I would like to congratulate you and your staff on a well engineered and managed implementation"
